CAPABILITY STATEMENT

KickStage Consulting is a contemporary engineering consultancy firm, founded in 2015, providing expert technical solutions for your holistic product creation process, from optimized product development through to supply chain design and risk management.

The KickStage team believe in using a data-driven, holistic and multi-disciplinary approach in all aspects of technical project delivery. We offer an agile approach for quick, wide-field consultation and implementation on all of your project needs.

With over 150 years of combined experience and industry leading qualifications in Lean/Six Sigma and Project Management (supplementing the Masters-level engineering and business degrees held by all of our consultants), we follow a clear and logical process in project delivery with an emphasis on customer communication and frequent feedback loops.

Core Competences

We work with clients across many manufacturing industries, from major global aerospace and high-tech firms to new start-up ventures. We have a solid track record of leading cutting-edge technologies from concept to full production, with world-class reputation in the following areas:

- The development of casting and ceramic composite technologies for aerospace application
- Rapid and agile supplier performance recovery interventions
- Holistic and profitable supply chain outsourcing and offset fulfillment initiatives (particularly in Mexico and Latin America)
- Assisting start-ups with prototyping options and initial supply chain design

Whether you need brief consultative oversight, staff coaching and training or full project ownership, the team at KickStage can help you.

We're in good company:

Rolls-Royce®

We provide expert technical solutions for your holistic product creation process, from optimized product development through to supply chain design and risk management.
